

Since 1986, Bray has supplied desalination plants with robust, corrosion-resistant valve and automation solutions designed for long-term reliability in aggressive seawater applications.

Drawing on an extensive global installed base and decades of industry experience, our application engineering team helps customers select the optimal materials and products to maximize valve performance, extend service life, and reduce lifecycle costs.

DESALINATION PROCESS

OUR PRODUCTS IN DESALINATION

|                       |       |                   |                  | PROCESS         |                          |                 |                |                 |                        |
|-----------------------|-------|-------------------|------------------|-----------------|--------------------------|-----------------|----------------|-----------------|------------------------|
| PRODUCT               | BRAND | TYPE              | MODEL            | SEAWATER INTAKE | PRE-TREATMENT FILTRATION | REVERSE OSMOSIS | POST-TREATMENT | BRINE DISCHARGE | STORAGE & DISTRIBUTION |
| BUTTERFLY VALVES      | Bray  | Triple Offset     | TriLok®          |                 |                          | ■               |                |                 |                        |
|                       |       | High Performance  | McCannalok™      | ■               |                          | ■               |                |                 |                        |
|                       |       | Resilient Seated  | Series 3X        | ■               | ■                        |                 | ■              | ■               | ■                      |
|                       |       |                   | Series 35/36     | ■               |                          |                 |                |                 | ■                      |
|                       |       | Lined Valves      | Series 2X        |                 | ■                        |                 | ■              | ■               |                        |
| BALL VALVES           | Bray  | Flanged (2-piece) | Series F15/F30   | ■               | ■                        |                 | ■              | ■               | ■                      |
|                       |       | 3-Piece           | Triad            |                 |                          | ■               |                |                 |                        |
|                       |       | 3-Piece           | Series 7000      | ■               | ■                        |                 | ■              | ■               | ■                      |
| ROTARY CONTROL VALVES | Bray  | Segmented Ball    | Series 19/19L    |                 | ■                        | ■               |                |                 |                        |
|                       |       | V-port Ball       | Flanged/Threaded |                 | ■                        |                 |                |                 |                        |
| CHECK VALVES          | Rite  | Swing Check       | Series 205, 210  |                 | ■                        | ■               | ■              | ■               |                        |

NOTE: For current product information and downloads, visit BRAY.COM.